ABSTRACT

In 1983, a follow-up study was conducted to gather information on the employment and educational status of 1979 graduates of Mercer County Community College (MCCC) The survey questionnaire, which requested background, employment, and educational information and sought the graduates' opinions of MCCC programs and services, was mailed to 580 students who graduated from MCCC in January, June, or August of 1979. Study findings, based on responses from 300 of the graduates, included the following: (1) 65% of the respondents graduated from career programs and 35% from transfer programs; (2) 82% were employed full-time and 9% part-time; (3) 69% of the graduates reported that they received their positions more than 6 months after graduation from MCCC; (4) 77% of the employed graduates were working in the same field as their major at MCCC; (5) 62% of the respondents had continued their education, and 47% had pursued a degree program; (6) 65% of the graduates rated their program at MCCC as either very good or excellent, and 83% of the transfer graduates and 85% of the career graduates said they would recommend the academic program at MCCC to friends or relatives. The study report includes respondents' comments on programs and services at MCCC and compares findings with results from a survey of 1978 graduates. Appendices contain the survey instrument, survey responses by academic program, and educational and employment data by program. (HB)

I. Executive Summary

The Four Years Later report summarizes data from a four-year longitudinal study of 1979 Mercer County Community College graduates. The survey was conducted during the Summer and Fall of 1983. Some relevant findings of the study are:

- 91% (89% of the Class of 1978) of the respondents were employed either full-time or part-time at the time of the survey.
- 77% (75% of the Class of 1978) of the employed graduates reported that they were working in a job related to their academic program at MCCC.
- 54% of the career respondents and 36% of the transfer respondents are working in Mercer County.
- 28% of the career program respondents and 16% of the transfer respondents obtained their job while they were in school or within six months after graduation.
- 62% (62% of the Class of 1978) of the graduates have continued their education. Twenty-eight percent had obtained a Bachelor degree at the time of the survey.
- 78% (83% of the Class of 1978) of the respondents who graduated from transfer programs and 54% (50% of the Class of 1978) of those from career programs have continued their education.
- 92% of the respondents rated the quality of education received at Mercer as "good", "very good" or "excellent".
- 84% of the respondents said they would recommend their academic program to a friend, relative or acquaintance.

II. Introduction

A. Background

The Graduate Survey on which this report is based is conducted to gather data on the current employment status and educational activities of MCCC graduates as well as solicit their opinions about their educational experience at MCCC. Four Years Later is the report generated from the data obtained in this study. This report presents the data and compares it to previous years' graduates. A comparison of graduates from transfer and career programs is also presented.

B. Methodology

The two page survey form consists of predominantly close-ended and alternative response questions, ending with an open-ended summary item. It is divided into four main sections: Background Information, Employment, Education, and Opinions (See Appendix A).

The questionnaire, along with a cover letter and a self-addressed stamped envelope, was mailed to a survey population of 580 graduates from January, June and August of 1979. The initial mailing, which was sent in July, 1983 netted 165 replies for a 28% response rate. A second mailing was then made to the 415 non-respondents at the end of August. Seventy-four additional surveys were returned in this effort. A third mailing netted 61 responses, thus, over a period of four months, a total of 300 surveys were returned resulting in an overall response rate of 52%.[a] This percentage represents a higher rate of response than in previous years (45% for the Class of 1977 and 41% for the Class of 1978).

[a] Bad addresses ('return to sender') which accounted for 14% of the original population, were not included in the total response rate.

III. Results

A. Background Information

The demographic characteristics of the responding population indicate that of the 300 respondents, 54% were female and 44% male (2% left this question blank). Caucasians represented 90% of the respondents; Blacks, 5% and Other, 5%[a]. The survey respondents closely resemble the total graduate population.[b]

The number of graduates responding by MCCC academic program are listed in Appendix B. One hundred and ninety-four (65%) of the survey respondents graduated from career programs, while 106 (35%) were from transfer programs. These figures show an increase in surveys coming from career programs and a decrease in those from transfer programs compared to 1978 when 61% responded from career programs and 39% from transfer programs.

B. Employment

Of the 300 respondents, 272 (91%) indicated they were presently employed on either a full-time or part-time basis (90%, Class of '77 and 89%, Class of '78). Table 1 displays the current employment status for the graduates over three years. Compared to the previous year, more graduates are working part-time (9% vs. 5% for 1978 graduates) and fewer full-time (82% vs. 84% for 1978 graduates).

[a] The "Other" category includes Hispanics, American Indians and Asians.

[b] Graduate demographics were reported for the Fiscal Year 1979 and this survey was conducted on the calendar year 1979 graduates; therefore, a direct comparison cannot be made.

This graduating class was more mobile than their immediate predecessors: 39% of the employed respondents are working within Mercer County, and 16% are working in adjacent counties. In contrast 47% of the Class of 1977 and 59% of the Class of 1978 were working in Mercer County (see Table 2).

A majority (69%) of the 1979 responding graduates reported that they obtained their present positions, "more than 6 months after graduation from MCCC". Eight percent reported "before entering MCCC", fourteen percent selected "within 6 months after graduation from MCCC" and nine percent obtained their positions "while attending MCCC". The percentage of respondants securing their job more than 6 months after graduation has increased (58%, of the 1978 graduates) while the number of graduates obtaining their job before entering MCCC has decreased substantially (17% of the 1978 graduates.)

As can be seen in Table 4, the three most common ways of hearing about a job were: "a friend or relative", "a newspaper ad/an employment bulletin", and "sent in a resume/on site inquiry". Some responses which were classified as "other" included: former employer, promotion, NJIT Placement office, family business and on own initiative. Compared to last year, more graduates utilized the newspaper and on-site inquiries to obtain their jobs.

As illustrated in Figure 1, at the time of the survey the annual salary range most often indicated was $20,000 to $22,499 (16%) followed closely by the $12,500 to $14,999 range (15%). It is of interest to note that graduates of the Nursing program accounted for 23% of the $20,000 to $22,499 range. Salary ranges are also listed by program and job title in Appendix C.

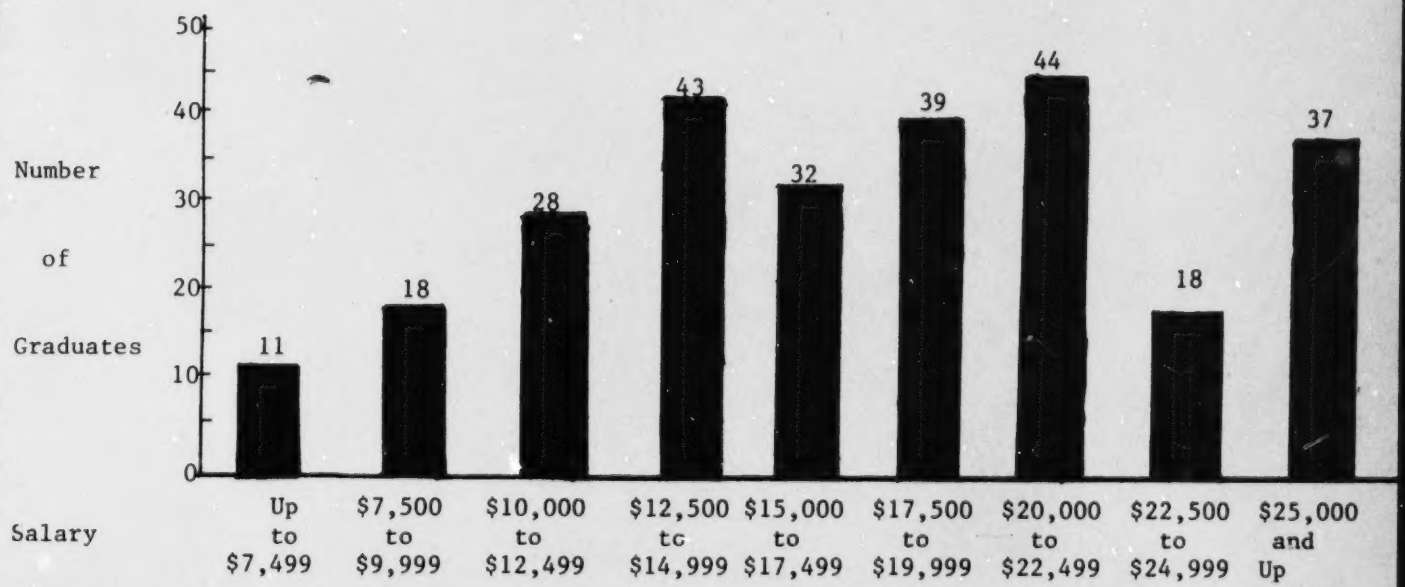

Figure 1
Average Annual Salary

Seventy-seven percent of the 1979 respondents reported that they were working in the same field as their academic program at MCCC: 55%, "yes, definitely", 22%, "yes, somewhat". The Class of 1978 had followed a similar pattern. Table 5 displays the way in which former students working at a job related to their program rate the usefulness and quality of their education.

Table 5
Evaluation of Education (Class of 1979)

	Usefulness in Performing Job			Overall Quality of MCCC Education

	N=150	N=59	N=59	N=149	N=58	N=63

As might be expected, students who work in unrelated jobs noted their education as less useful than did students in related jobs. However, their ratings on quality still tend to be as high as those given by students working in a related job. In addition, 248 (84%) of the respondents said they would recommend their academic program at Mercer to a friend, relative or acquaintance; ten percent were not sure and only six percent gave a negative response. This pattern of response is similar to that of the Class of 1978.

C. Education

Sixty-two percent of the 1979 respondents have continued their education, forty-seven percent have pursued degree programs and 7% took courses for personal interest. The 1979 respondents are almost identical to the preceding class in their education achievements: 62% of the 1978 graduates had continued their education and 48% were pursuing a degree (see Table 6).

When asked if their continued education was in a field related to their academic program at Mercer, 52% answered "yes, definitely"; 24% stated "yes, somewhat"; and 24% replied "no". At the time of the survey 28% of the graduates had obtained a Bachelor degree. The Class of 1978 responses were as follows: Forty-eight percent answered "Yes, definitely"; 31% stated "Yes, somewhat"; and 21% replied "No". Thirty-one percent of these graduates had earned a baccalaureate degree.

Among those who continued their education, 140 (75%) stated they attempted to transfer credits to another college; however only 36 (26%) of the graduates reported how many credits were actually lost. Because of this poor response no longitudinal comparisons can be made to previous years.

IV. Transfer and Career Programs: A Comparison

A. Employment

Students graduating from transfer programs differ somewhat to students graduating from career programs when compared on most questions related to employment. Eighty-five percent of the Class of 1979 transfer graduates were working; 77% full-time and 80% part-time, while 95% of the career respondents were employed; 85% full-time and 10% part-time. The 1978 graduates exhibited a similar pattern.

A comparison of employment by location is presented in Table 7. Of the Class of 1979, fifty-four percent of the career respondents are working within Mercer County compared to 36% of the transfer graduates. An additional forty-six percent of the transfer group are working in other New Jersey locations, as are 32% of the career graduates. Compared to the career group, a larger percentage of transfer graduates are now working outside of New Jersey (18% vs. 14%). These respondents differ from the preceding years' graduates in that there are less graduates working within Mercer County, but there are more holding jobs in other N.J. counties.

Location of Employment

	Class of 1978		Class of 1979
Employed in:	Transfer	Career	Transfer	Career
Mercer County	63%	65%	36%	54%

Pennsylvania	4%	3%	3%	6%
Other States	11%	9%	15%	8%
	100%	100%	100%	100%

Sixty-six percent (61% of the Class of 1978) of the graduates of transfer programs reported that their jobs were "somewhat or definitely related" to their program at MCCC as compared to eighty-two percent (83% of the Class of 1978) of career programs. The reasons which each group gave for not working in their field of preparation are displayed in Table 8. Many differences occur between the groups over the two years. The main reason given by the Class of 1978 transfer students was continuing their education, while the 1979 graduates were not able to find a job in their field. The most frequent response given by the 1978 career respondents was they nad worked, but changed jobs while the 1979 graduates gave changing jobs and not being able to find a job equal weight. Twenty-one percent of the 1978 transfer graduates felt they were not sufficiently qualified while in 1979 only 3% felt they lacked the qualification.

Table 8
Reasons for Not Working in Field of Preparation

Reason	Class of 1978		Class of 1979
	Transfer	Career	Transfer	Career
Did, but changed jobs	3%	32%	9%	21%
Preferred to work in another field	6%	3%	17%	14%
Found better paying job	9%	16%	14%	14%

Other	16%	20%	12%	9%
	100%	100%	100%	100%

Table 9 presents data regarding when students obtained their jobs relative to their attendance at MCCC. Although the majority of both classes obtained their present positions more than six months after graduation there are some differences between the groups regarding the acquisition of their present job. Students in career programs were more likely to obtain the jobs which they retained while they were in school or within six months after graduation than were students of transfer curricula (27% vs. 16% of the 1978 graduates; 28% vs. 16% of the 1979 graduates). Among the Class of 1979, the percentages of both transfer and career respondents who obtained their job before entering MCCC has decreased by over fifty percent compared to the previous years' graduates.

Table 9
When Graduates Obtain Jobs

	Class of 1978		Class of 1979
	Transfer	Career	Transfer	Career
Before entering MCCC	15%	19%	7%	8%
While attending MCCC	8%	10%	8%	10%

More than 6 months after graduation	69%	54%	79%	64%
	100%	100%	100%	100%

B. Education

Seventy-eight percent of the responding students who graduated from transfer programs in 1979 have continued their education (83% of the Class of 1978). At the time of the survey 49% of the graduates of both classes had completed a bachelor degree.

Fifty-four percent of the responding students who graduated from career programs in 1979 have continued their education (50% of the Class of 1978). Seventeen percent of the 1979 graduates who have continued have completed a bachelor degree and 5% were pursuing education at the graduate level, while a comparable 18% of the Class of 1978 had obtained a bachelor degree. Eighty-two percent of the responding graduates of transfer programs and 55% of the career respondents attempted to transfer credits to another college.

The colleges selected by graduates of the Class of 1979 are displayed in Table 10. The major difference between graduates of career programs and graduates of transfer programs is that the career program graduates are more likely to continue their education at a community college than are graduates of transfer programs. Trenton State College attracts more transfer students than career, while the opposite is true for Rider College and NJIT. This year, compared to the 1978 graduates, more career students are going to out-of-state schools and fewer to New Jersey Community Colleges (see Table 10).

Table 10
Selected Transfer Colleges

School	Class of 1978		Class of 1979
	Transfer	Career	Transfer	Career
NJ Community Colleges	11%	12%	5%	12%
Trenton State College	36%	30%	44%	30%
Rider College	10%	14%	6%	14%

Out-of-State Schools	20%	25%	22%	25%
	100%	100%	100%	100%

When asked if their continued field of study was related to their MCCC major a larger percentage of 1979 career program graduates responded affirmatively, compared to the transfer group (79% vs. 73%), while the opposite was true for the Class of 1978. A greater percentage (83%) of the transfer program respondents answered yes compared to the career group (76%). (See Table 11).

Continued Education in a Related Field of Study

Response	Class of 1978		Class of 1979
	Transfer	Career	Transfer	Career
Yes, definitely	59%	38%	54%	51%
Yes, somewhat	24%	38%	19%	28%
No	17%	24%	27%	21%
	100%	100%	100%	100%

Program ratings seem to indicate that the Class of 1979 was genuinely satisfied with their curricula. Sixty-five percent of both the transfer curricula graduates and the graduates of career programs rated their programs as either "Very Good" or "Excellent". Further support of program satisfication is indicated by the fact that 83% of the 1979 graduates of transfer programs and 85% of the career graduates stated that they would recommend their academic program at Mercer to friends or relatives.

Information on education and employment by program is contained in Appendices C and D.

V. Opinions and Comments

A. Opinions

The Library and Student Records were the services most often used by the Class of 1979 since graduating from MCCC. Table 12 displays the usefulness of student services to alumni.

Table 12
Student Services

	Useful	Somewhat Useful	Not Very Useful	Have Not Used	# Respondents
Alumni Affairs	2%	5%	9%	84%	278

Student Activities	4%	2%	6%	88%	280
Student Records	18%	17%	8%	57%	283

B. Comments

The final item on the survey was an open-ended question inviting suggestions for improving MCCC. Fifty percent of the survey respondents offered comments. The majority of remarks dealt with program improvements. Other topics of concern noted by the respondents were related to transfer difficulties, advisement and counseling, and services and activities.
